That's because many apps that integrate with Apple only need iCloud credentials to work. In addition, Apple devices are known to sync very well and backup frequently, which is another plus point in our books. So let's discuss the three easiest wayson someone's iPhone if you don't have your phone with you. Method 1 - mSpy Yes, you can use mSpy to spy on a cell phone without accessing the phone. You might be wondering how you can use mSpy for these things. The answer is simple - mSpy is designed to be invisible and undetectable, allowing you to complete the entire setup and spying process from your personal phone or computer. Since everything happens from mSpy's own servers, you don't need to install any software on the target phone. If your target is an iPhone user, you only need to get their iCloud credentials. Then simply log into your mSpy account, enter your iCloud credentials, and all their phone information, such as texts, calls, social media posts, and more, will be displayed on your dashboard. This means you will never need to install any software or even have physical access to the target device. If your target audience is an Android user, you will need to purchase their phone to physically install the app. That's why mSpy works without access and installation only on iOS devices. The uses of mSpy are endless: track messengers like Facebook, Instagram, WhatsApp and Snapchat. Monitor incoming and outgoing calls. Track browsing history and destination bookmarks. Monitor incoming and outgoing emails on target mobile phone without access. unwanted callers Get real-time GPS location on a detailed map Activate the microphone and listen to calls remotely Use it as a secret key lock for Android To use the mSpy mobile spy app, you need: Step 1: Register mSpy on the company website. Step 2. Select the target device you want to track and follow the installation instructions received via email. Step 3. Track their cell phone remotely from mSpy spy program control panel. For more detailed instructions, see our step-by-step mSpy installation guide. Method 2 - iCloud. If you want to spy on someone's iOS device, don't mindThe best way to do this is to use iCloud. iCloud is Apple's cloud storage service that allows users to store data such as photos, videos, documents and more. In addition, this data is synchronized across all of the user's devices. So if you have access to someone's iCloud account, you can see everything that person stores there. To spy on someone using iCloud, you need their Apple ID and password. Once you have them, you can sign in to your iCloud account to view their details. Here's how: Go to icloud.com and sign in with the person's Apple ID and password. Click the Photos icon. You'll see all the photos the person has stored on iCloud. You can view them individually or download them all at once. To view other types of data, such as videos, documents, and more, tap the appropriate icons. Now that you know how to spy on someone using iCloud, you can use this information for any purpose you see fit. Just remember to act ethically and responsibly. Method 3 - Find My iPhone Find My iPhone is a built-in software that can be found on all iOS devices. It allows iPhone users to locate their phone if it is lost or stolen. But not many people know that you can also spy on someone else's phone location using this method. It works if location services are enabled on your phone. Here's how to find someone's iPhone without accessing their phone: Step 1: Launch the Find My iPhone app on your Apple device or visit iCloud.com/find in your web browser. Step 2. Enter the target's Apple ID and password and select All Devices. Step 3: Click Find iPhone. Wait until the destination is displayed. How To Spy On Android Phone Without Installing Any Software Using hidden spyware on Android mobile devices is a bit more complicated. They often require root or physical access, but there are several ways to achieve this. Fortunately, we know all of these options and share them with you below. Method 4:Find My Device is a system application found on all Android devices that allows users to track their phones if they are lost or stolen. However, you can also use this tool to spy on someone without touching their phone if you know their Google account credentials or have access to their computer where they are automatically logged in. Here's how to track a target using Find My Device: Step 1. Sign in to your browser at google.com/android/find. Step 2. Enter the target Google account credentials. Step 3: You will be shown the location of your destination. Method 5: Google Timeline Similar to the above app, Google Timeline helps you track your destination's location if they are connected to the internet. The great thing about this feature is that it also gives you access to Street View, which will show you the exact location of the person. To track a target phone using Google Timeline spy app for Android, you need to: Open the Google Maps Maps app. Tap the target's profile picture, then tap your timeline. Tap More and then Settings & Privacy. In the "Location Settings" section, check that the "Location is enabled" option is visible. If it isn't, tap Location is off and turn on Location. In the "Location Settings" section, check that the "Location history is enabled" option is visible. If not, tap on "Location history is off" to turn on location history. Method 6: Google Location History You can also use the Google Location History feature to spy on someone's phone without installing any software. All you need is a browser and access to your Google account. You can then see where they went, what places or restaurants they went to, etc. How to do it: Open the target's Google account and select "Manage Google". Account" Select "Privacy & Personalization" Find "Location History" Click "Manage History" and that's it. How to spy on any cell phone for freealso use other more dangerous and much more sophisticated methods to try and spy on someone's phone. However, most of these methods require extensive programming skills and can lead to legal problems if discovered. Method 7: Phishing Phishing is the practice of sending emails that trick people into clicking on malicious or dangerous attachments or links. They usually impersonate legitimate organizations or individuals in order to force you to open said link. By clicking on these malicious links, attackers are tricked into revealing personal and sensitive information such as passwords, bank account and credit card numbers. On the other side of the link is a parameter that captures the credentials you entered and delivers them to you. The only major downside to phishing is that it is very technical and may not be suitable if you do not have advanced computer skills. Here are some rough instructions: The first step is to create a fake login page that looks exactly like the login page for the phone monitoring service you are going to use. You can do this with a website builder, or you can manually code the page yourself. After creating a fake login page, you need to host it on a web server. You can use free web hosting or set up your own web server. The next step is to send an email to the person whose phone you want to spy on with a link to a fake login page. Make sure the email looks like it came from a legitimate source, such as the phone tracking service itself. When a person clicks on a link in an email and tries to log in, their username and password will be sent to you. You can then use these credentials to log into the actual phone tracking service and spy on that person's activities. Method 8. Analysis of wireless networks. Wireless analysis is the process of monitoring wireless traffic. This can be achieved by placing a wireless sniffer near where the target phone is located. Wireless sniffer yesall data packets sent by the target phone, including text messages, calls and even internet usage. In order to display the recorded data, special software capable of decoding and interpreting the data packets is required. There are many free and paid sniffing software available online. Once the data packets are decrypted, you can see all the activity on the target phone, including text messages, calls made and received, and internet usage. How to spy on someone's phone without touching it: To spy on someone's phone activities using wireless eavesdropping, you need a laptop with the aircrack-ng package and a wireless network interface controller that supports monitor mode. Find a location where you can get good signal strength from the target phone. Connect your laptop to the internet and open a terminal. Type "airodump-ng mon0" (without the quotes) and press Enter. It will search for all wireless networks in range. Find the BSSID (MAC address) of the target network and note the channel used. Type "airodump-ng -c (channel number) bssid (target BSSID) mon0" (without quotes) and press Enter. It starts receiving packets from the target wireless network. Wait a moment for the data to appear in the Data column under the heading Pkts. Now type "aireplay-ng -3 -b (target BSSID) mon0" (without the quotes) and press Enter. This introduces fake authentication frames to the target wireless network, forcing all users to disconnect and reconnect. If you see the output of the previous command "WPA handshake-", you have successfully intercepted the WPA/WPA2 handshake. Now type "aircrack-ng -w (path to name!st) (file name saved in step 6).cap" (without quotes) and press Enter. This will brute force the intercepted WPA/WPA2 handshake using the specified list of words.WhenThe process is complete, you will see the password of the target wireless network in the terminal. Method 9 - Hacking Touch ID This type of method secretly accesses the target phone when it is unlocked. Once you have access to the target's phone, go to security settings and add your fingerprint to their Touch ID. Here is a short video tutorial showing how it's done: Method 10 - Online Hacking Sites Many websites promise to give you hassle-free access to your target phone with their free web-based tool. However, these sites are mostly scams and only want to trick you. Instead, you will be infected with malware. They use strong buzzwords and hacker-inspired colors and images to lure naive users into their scheme. They usually offer a widget that asks for the target's name, phone number, or email address, and simply pressing the "hack" button will take you to all their activities at once. It's all fake - you are asked to track surveys or download files from suspicious links before completing the so-called hacking process. Don't fall for them - even if they look convincing, they can wreak havoc on your phone or computer. How can I spy on my husband's cell phone without touching it? If he is an iOS user, the best way is definitely to use mSpy. If it uses Android, things get more complicated. You can use the built-in Google services that we mentioned in the article or you can use other more sophisticated methods like phishing. Phishing can be your best option as you can easily convince him to open the fake link because you are his wife. How to mirror phone without them knowing? There are two ways you can secretly mirror someone's phone without them knowing. The first method is to use clone apps from Google Play or App Store. These are usually free, but the target can easily find them on their phone. Second and mostopstion is mSpy. The best thing about mSpy is that it works completely silently in the background, so the target will never know that you have cloned their phone. It is also very affordable and has a great money back guarantee policy. What is the best cell phone spy software without a target phone? The best, easiest and most reliable application is definitely mSpy. It offers the widest set of features and has virtually no limitations. You can easily access everything from the dashboard and the information is updated in real time. Other methods are better for tracking their location, but they do not provide access to other interesting information, such as messages on social networks, calls and deleted SMS, texts.
