Kingdom come deliverance pestilence quest guide

I'm not robot!

Kingdom come deliverance can you get the plague. Kingdom come deliverance pestilence how long to wait. Kingdom come deliverance pestilence which disease. Kingdom come pestilence time limit.

Something terrible has happened in Merhojed. I have to find the Bailiff or his assistant and ask what's going on. You should talk to Melichar. Once I arrived in Merhojed, I discovered something terrible had happened there. I talked to Melichar, who took charge of the village after Vassal Smil was killed, and found out the village was apparently stricken by the plague. If I'm to help, first I'll have to find out more about the ailment. It will be easy enough to find the sick villagers, because Melichar the village elder has marked their doors with limewash crosses. Straw's wife You will find Straw in one of the marked houses. Convince him that you want to help his wife ... ... and inspect his wife. I promised old Straw I'd heal his wife. I managed to heal Straw's wife. Straw's wife died. There was nothing I could do for her. Bedrishka Talk to Bedrishka. I promised the widow I'd help her by digging a grave for her dead husband. Dig a grave under the tree behind the house. I met a widow in one of the stricken houses, who asked me if I'd help her get her dead husband buried. So I took a spade and dug a grave for him under the linden tree behind the house. I have to carry the dead man to the grave. Grab the body and drop it into the grave. I gave the dead man a decent burial, although in unconsecrated ground. His soul will just have to wait a while in Purgatory until some priest has the courage to come to Merhojed and risk the pestilence. Vincent Talk to him and agree to write his testimony. New quest will be added to your journal - Last Will and Testament. Daniel Tell him that you are his brother. To help the Merhojed villagers rid themselves of the pestilence, I first had to find out more about it, a risky task that I took upon myself. I went to the houses marked with white crosses and when ever possible talked to the afflicted to find out what the trouble was. I must talk to Johanka. She ought to know how to help the folk in Merhojed. I travelled to Sasau to ask Johanka's advice about the pestilence. She couldn't help, but she did point me to Brother Nicodemus, who gives physic to the sick and should be able to help with the Merhojed sickness. I should find Brother Nicodemus, who ought to be able to advise me about the pestilence. If you have chosen: I can read. I promised to help Brother Nicodemus with the diagnosis. Read the book then talk to Brother Nicodemus and tell him that you know what ails them, and then say it's poisoning from water. I offered to help Brother Nicodemus with the diagnosis. After persistent, careful study of medicinal manuscripts, I discovered something. I told the monk my conclusions and he agreed with my diagnosis. If you have chosen: Books won't help us. Brother Nicodemus first has to find the right diagnosis. Meanwhile, I'll have to wait. Unfortunately I wasn't able to help Brother Nicodemus with the task, so I have to wait until he's gone through the medical manuscripts. I have to ask Brother Nicodemus how it's going with the remedy for the Merhojed folk. Nicodemus found out what the ailment is. Now he has to prepare a remedy for it. That will take some time.Once Nicodemus had found out what the ailment was, he needed some time to prepare a remedy for it. Nicodemus was willing to help me find a cure for the Merhojed villagers, but first it was necessary to diagnose the ailment. Nicodemus hoped he'd find an answer somewhere in his huge scriptorium. I decided to prepare the remedy for the sick villagers myself. Meanwhile, Brother Nicodemus went on ahead to Merhojed to care for the sick. 1. Pour water into the cauldron. 2. Add two handfuls of thistle. 3. Use bellows and boil for two turns of the sandglass. If it stops boiling, use the bellows again. 4. Add one handful of valerian. 5. Boil for one turn of the sandglass. 6. Let it cool. 7. Add the charcoal. 8. Pour the potion into phial. I promised to prepare the remedy for the sick villagers myself, so Brother Nicodemus went on ahead to Merhojed. Once I'd gathered the necessary ingredients, I shut myself up in the alchemical laboratory and started working on the potion. Thankfully, my efforts were rewarded with success. Now to take the remedy to the sick villagers in Merhojed. Nicodemus was already waiting for me in Merhojed, where he'd been caring for the sick. Fortunately the pestilence hadn't spread any further, although the infected weren't getting any better either. At least there were no new victims. Nicodemus was already waiting for me in Merhojed, where he'd been caring for the sick. Unfortunately, I'd come too late - Nicodemus told me all the infected had died. If you told Nicodemus that you can't help with preparing the medicine. The fate of the Merhojed folk is in God's hands now. All I can do is wait and see if the remedy works or not. Just go to Merhojed. I kept my promise and brought help, so Melichar should let me see the captive. I should ask Brother Nicodemus what he thinks about the Merhojed tragedy and how the sick are doing. Find Brother Nicodemus and ask him how are things looking here? Brother Nicodemus asked me to help with distributing the medicine. I have to go to all the affected houses. As soon as I arrived in Merhojed, we immediately began distributing the potion to the afflicted. Many of them seemed in better spirits at once, simply because they finally had hope of a cure. It was a bit early to draw conclusions, though. We'd have to wait and see. I managed to heal Daniel, the delirious man from Merhojed. I gave the remedy to the sick and Brother Nicodemus is looking after them. We'll have to wait a while to see whether it works.Success! Brother Nicodemus and I breathed a sigh of relief when the potion worked.The remedy failed. All the infected succumbed. Brother Nicodemus was devastated. He went back to the monastery. Pestilence is a Side Quest in Kingdom Come Deliverance (KCD). This walkthrough will guide you through all objectives of Pestilence Side Quest, how to brew the remedy potion at alchemy bench, and how to heal all the sick to earn the Plague Doctor trophy / achievement. The goal of this side quest is to heal all the stick of Merhojed. Curing everyone unlocks the Plague Doctor trophy / achievement. You will unlock the Pestilence Side Quest automatically during the Main Quest “Questions and Answers“. It’s tied into this main quest. Just play the main story path and you’ll unlock it. IMPORTANT: If you don’t cure the villagers, they will die and their side quests become unavailable in the future. This is time-sensitive. Do all quest steps as fast as possible without delay. If you take too long, people will die. Before you start Before activating this quest you should bring the following things: 1 x Valerian (Herb) – bought from apothecary in Rattay (needed to produce the cure). 2 x Thistle (Herb) – bought from apothecary in Rattay (needed to produce the cure). 1 x Charcoal – bought from any blacksmith/forge (needed to produce the cure). Learn how to read by completing side quest “Mightier than the Sword”. You get this quest by talking to the bailiff in Rattay, he lives with the Scribe (Scribe icon is shown on the map, the house above the armorer shop). You need to be able to read to fight the cure for the sickness fast before anyone dies! If you don’t have the reading skill some people might die and you will miss the “Plague Doctor” trophy/achievement. (Optional) Saviour Schnapps (because there is a tricky step to brew a potion) Video Walkthrough Unlocking the Quest Pestilence Side Quest starts by talking to any of the villagers in Merhojed (village south-west of Talmberg) during main quest Questions and Answers. Only during that main quest the people of Merhojed will become sick. If you go there before this point in the story, they won’t be sick and the side quest won’t be playable. This is roughly halfway through the story, the next quest after having killed Runt. Investigate the Plague in Merhojed Follow the main quest Questions and Answers until you have to talk to Melichar, the local bailiff of Merhojed. He lives in the house across the street from the stables. He will tell you that he will help you on your main quest if you help him fight the sickness that has befallen Merhojed. He gives you two objectives: to investigate the plague and to see Johanka at the monastery in Sasau. Go check all 5 houses marked with a white cross on the door and talk to the villagers inside to learn about their symptoms. One woman will ask you to help bury her husband who died of the sickness. It doesn’t matter what dialogue you pick, the last option not to help her is the fastest and she will provide the information regardless. Upon talking to all the infected (5 houses with white cross on door), this objective will be completed. It will give you the info you need to determine what the illness is. Have a word with Johanka at the monastery Immediately head to the monastery in Sasau. There you can find a woman in the courtyard of the Monastery (or in one of the houses at night). She’s marked by a quest marker. Talk to her and she will tell you to go see brother Nicodemus. Talk to brother Nicodemus Nicodemus is also in the monastery, standing in the house behind Johanka. Important: If you didn’t bring the herbs “Valerian” and “Thistle” be sure to buy them from Nicodemus before telling him about the plague! After telling him about it, you can no longer buy herbs from him. You need these to produce the cure for the sick! When talking to Nicodemus, you must pick the following dialogues: There’s a plague outbreak in Merhojed Intriguing, it’s horrible! (this choice doesn’t matter) About half the village All the animals I know I can read (you get reading skill from side quest “Mightier than the Sword” which you get from the bailiff in Rattay who lives with the Scribe above the armorer’s shop) IF YOU HAVEN’T LEARNED READING SKILL: You will have to describe the symptoms to Nicodemus. Choose: Fever, Stomach Pains, Diarrhoea –> That’s all. However, beware Nicodemus will take one day to find the cure and in the meantime villagers may die, thus voiding the Plague Doctor trophy. If you take this path then just skip time for one day and talk to him again. IF YOU CAN READ [NEEDED TO CURE EVERYONE / PLAGUE DOCTOR TROPHY]: Pick dialogue “Where do we start?” –> triggers next objective. Find the right diagnosis and the recipe for the cure in the books If you told him you can read, you will get this objective. You must do this for the Plague Doctor trophy! Read the book on the left side. Just browse through all the pages a few times. After reading the book, talk to Nicodemus again and pick dialogue “I know what ails them”. Poisoning from Water I can help –> IMPORTANT: You must pick this option and brew the potion yourself. Otherwise, Nicodemus will take one day to do it and villagers will die, thus voiding the Plague Doctor trophy. I need you to cure the captive first (choice doesn’t matter) Prepare the Remedy By far the trickiest step of the quest. You now have to brew the Merhojed remedy potion. Before you start you need these ingredients: Ingredients 1 x Valerian (bought from Nicodemus before telling him about the sickness) 2 x Thistle (bought from Nicodemus before telling him about the sickness) 1 x Charcoal (bought from blacksmith/forge). One is nearby in the south of Sasau. If you forgot to buy herbs from Nicodemus, you can rob all required ingredients from the sacks to the left of the alchemy station. Alternatively, reload the last autosave “Pestilence – Johanka Informed” and buy them from Nicodemus. The location of the blacksmith selling charcoal is below: Buy Charcoal from this Blacksmith if you didn’t bring any How to Brew the Merhojed Remedy Potion You can use the alchemy bench where you talked to Nicodemus (in his room where you read the book). It is highly recommended you drink a Saviour Schnapps here to make a manual save. If you need visual aid, refer to the video walkthrough at 6:21: Here is the full recipe as written in the Alchemy book and the steps you need to do: Merhojed Remedy: The recipe for the healing potion that should cure the afflicated Merhojed villagers. Prepare clean water, one handful of valerian, two of thistle and some charcoal. Drop the thistle in the cauldron and boil for two turns. Add the alverian and boil for one more turn. Leave to cool. Finally add the charcoal, but do not boil! Interact with Alchemy bench, look to your right and press / to read the book. Use / to turn to the page with the “Merhojed Remedy” recipe and hold / to place the ingredients. Water: Put water (yellow keg top left) in the cauldron. Thistle: Put thistle (right shelf) directly in the cauldron (don’t use mortar) Thistle: Put a second thistle (right shelf) in the cauldron (don’t use mortar) Boil 2 Turns: Press / to use the Bellows exactly 4 times in a row for the right temperature. You’ll see bubbles in the cauldron when it’s “boiling”. Sandglass: Press / to use sandglass. Sandglass: After 1 turn, use Sandglass again with / until 2nd turn is over. Valerian: Put Valerian (right shelf) in the cauldron. Boil 1 Turn: Press / until you see bubbles in the cauldron. Don’t overdo it, once you see bubbles stop immediately. Sandglass: Press to use sandglass. After 1 turn the bubbles should go away. If it lasts 2 turns it’s still okay. Cool: Wait for the cauldron to cool down, until the flame goes out. Charcoal: Use the charcoal (bottom right shelf), drop it in the cauldron. Phial: Pick a phial (bottom left shelf) and use it on the cauldron to fill up the potion And that’s how you make the remedy potion in the Pestilence Side Quest! If the objective shows completed as successful you’ve now brewed the Merhojed Cure potion. If you did too many steps wrong you must try again or reload the last save until you get it right. Take the Remedy to Merhojed / Find out from Brother Nicodemus how things look in Merhojed Fast travel back to Merhojed and talk to brother Nicodemus. He’s marked on the map, standing in a side room of Straw’s house (middle of the village). Give the Cure to the sick There are 5 sick you need to give the cure to! See screenshots below (red circle marks the location). Straw’s wife (the woman brother Nicodemus is looking after) Bedrishka Daniel Vincent The Captive Bandit (see next step) Talk to Melichar This step overlaps with the next step for main quest Questions and Answers. Talk to the local bailiff Melichar again. He will be marked as a main objective now and is walking around the village. Just toggle the waypoint markers of the Questions and Answers main quest to see his location. Tell him you brought help and he will gladly let you into the barn where the captive is. He should bring you to him, if he doesn’t just go to the map location below: Interrogate the captive in Merhojed This is actually a main objective from Questions and Answers Quest. Once in the barn, interact with the captive to give him the Remedy. Advance time for 6 hours (just use the “Wait” function inside the barn). After that talk to the captive again, now you can interrogate him. Please refer to the last 4 Steps of Questions and Answers Walkthrough now. » Questions and Answers Main Quest Walkthrough Wait Until the Situation Clears Up After finishing Questions and Answers, return to Merhojed and skip time for a few days until the villagers are healthy again. Then talk again to Melichar (the local bailiff) in Merhojed. He will thank you for saving everyone and give you 125 Groschen as a reward plus you get a nice skill-boost for alchemy, vitality and main level XP. Plague Doctor trophy unlocked! If you took too long with any of the steps (e.g. you waited for Nicodemus to figure out the sickness or he brewed the potion for you), some of the villagers may have died and you won’t earn the trophy. This concludes the Pestilence Side Quest.
